The Legend 1956

2007281

Offers Many Opportunities

Like the geometric quotation, "The Whole is Equal to the sum of all Its Parts," North Side High School offers complete education as a result of a combination of all its parts.

Classes form a large part of the high school years, of course; but a well-rounded education includes more than book learning. The students, themselves, make up North Side. They learn to work and play together. They participate in extra-curricular activities, and work closely with members of the faculty. Mr. Robertson and Miss Gross are always willing to lend a helping hand.

Athletics play their part in school life also. Students learn good sportsmanship as participants or as spectators. Football, basketball, track, cross-country, and tennis furnish a variety of entertainment.

Hidden talents are uncovered in time for Varsity Varieties and the Senior Play. Many speech organizations give students the opportunity to learn to express themselves clearly through speech contests.

Swimming, driver's training, journalism, music, language, business, math, and English classes provide the balance necessary for a good educational diet. Assemblies, Johnnies, teachers, television, convertibles, clubs, sports, and students provide the flavor.

The sum of all the parts makes the whole.

Left—Studying at home is an important part of the day for most North Siders, including the Glock family. Doug relaxes in a comfortable chair and gets down to business. Cousin Hugh and brother Al seem to be having a harder time finding the right book, while Jane, Hugh's sister, looks on.

Below—The study hall offers facilities for quiet, comfortable study. Some students make the most of their study period, as the girl on the left. Others, like the boy on the right, find time to relax with a favorite magazine.

Students Study Together

Work Together,

Below — In the library, students work with Miss Shroyer, the librarian, checking out books. Taking attendance and binding magazines are other tasks which the girls perform.

Above—The beach becomes a playground for these senior girls. Drying, combing, powdering, and just loafing seem to be the order of the day.

Right—School dances become a regular habit after every football and basketball game. These students are moving melodiously at an aftergame dance.

And Play Together

Upper Right—Each Monday morning, immediately after the tardy bell, Mr. Robertson reads from the Bible. This has been a tradition at North.

Above—Each year, The Student Council sponsors Junior High Day to acquaint incoming freshmen with life at the Dome. These bewildered eighth grade students search frantically for their guides, who will take them on a tour of the building.

We Follow Familiar Traditions, And Develop New Ideas

A new election system for class officers, which was installed this year, enabled students to give nominating speeches, and to campaign for their candidate. Dick Snyder is making a nomination as several other students show signs of active campaigning.

Another factor of the new election system was the procedure of voting with machines. These members of the senior class are registering and waiting for their turn to cast their vote.

This year North Side had a new addition—the flood wall. It was built by the city to prevent a flood from occurring at North. In the picture we see the wall just before it was completed.

Left—Redskin warriors search for the Central Tiger during a pep session before a game with city rival Central High School. Of course, the tiger was caught and killed.

We Practice Good Sportsmanship

Above—Tall basketball center Dick Berghoff is either illustrating good sportsmanship or fatherly love as he forms a huge contrast to tiny mascot Cheryl Zirkle.

Above—These peppy cheerleaders, caught in the locomotive cheer, did a lot to promote good sportsmanship among the student body.

Bundled fans cheer enthusiastically from the new football stadium as the gridiron squad scores another touchdown.

and Back Our Teams to Victory

Coach Robert Cowan rides high on the shoulders of his victorious athletes after a crucial game in the city series contest.

We Learn To Become Better

Carolyn Minyard is learning the hard way that helping at home is not always an easy task. Babysitting while attending to household chores can mean mischief as Carolyn's brother, sister—and cat—quickly proved.

Members of Our Community

Junior Achievement represents one of the best ways in which teenagers learn to become active members of their community.

At the beginning of the school year, students from five city schools, New Haven, and Elmhurst formed twenty-eight companies, engaged in radio, television, banking, or manufacturing.

J.A. companies meet once a week at the J.A. Center downtown. The company members select a name for their company, choose a product, and elect officers. Stock is sold to raise the necessary capital to begin operations. Soon the company starts production. Rent, wages, commissions, and taxes must be paid, the same as in a regular business.

As the company progresses, sales begin. Problems are met in a businesslike manner. In May the company liquidates and declares dividends on the stock which was issued. Junior Achievement ends for another year, but many students will long remember their experiences as they "learn by doing."

Speeding up production may mean more profits for these Junior Achievement members. Hanna Haney and Bill Spice are concentrating on the drill press, as Geraldine Strouder and Barb Fortner operate the belt sander. Working at the band saw are Dick Fardal and Nancy Kroeger. These workers are all members of the T.V.T. Company and are manufacturing television tables.

We Prepare For Many Futures

Vocational guidance helps prepare students for various fields. Many North Side graduates do plan for college, and are given much assistance in choosing the school which best meets their particular needs. Business majors often enter the business world soon after graduation, and receive special training for this type of work. Home economics classes offer valuable training for those who plan for married life soon after graduation. Whatever the plans may be, students are prepared for the life after graduation from high school.

During Four Well

Students with artistic abilities enroll in art classes. Rosalie Hoyl, Judy Bullerman, and Ken Lutenbocker work on their projects as Ronny Flaugh and Terry Stabler look on.

Members of Mr. Pennington's math class seem to be somewhat amused at the geometrical object which their teacher is demonstrating in connection with the work with solid figures.

Many students enroll in economics classes to learn the country's economic situation. Here, Mr. Young illustrates the benefits of proper advertising as he shows one of the advertisements prepared by a member of his class.

Balanced Years

Hilke Stoeckleman, Larry Gilpin, Bill Daniels, and Linda Schamerloh seem to be quite interested in one of the English projects turned in during their study of the Odyssey.

The biennial social science trip is a big event at the Big Dome. Busy with last minute arrangements are Miss Rothenberger, Mr. Sinks, Miss Bash, Mr. Henderson, and Mr. Malott.

To the despair of many students, testing never seems to end. These three pairs of feet tell a story of deep anxiety and worry as the upper extremities attack a final exam.

Demonstrating the solubility of ammonia gas are Dan Popp and Ben Wall. Mr. Harold Thomas looks as if something important is about to happen.

We Display Our Talents

Left—Julia Matthews dressed as a twenty bird pantomimes the record, "I Thought I Saw a Putty Cat."

Right—Doing his juggling to "Dark Town Strutters' Ball" is Jim Pennell, one of the end men in the minstrel show.

"Basin Street is the stree . . ." harmonize these lovely French lassies, Ruth Tennell, Judy Rains, Mona Zirkle, and Susie Lehman.

These dark haired ladies do a song and dance routine to "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes!"

Susie Lehman, Jon Micu, and Deanna Hockemeyer ham it up while singing "Five Feet Two" in the first act.

In Varsity Varieties

The finale of the show was a repeat performance of the opening with the entire cast singing "Bring Back Those Minstrel Days" and "Swanee." For many participants this was the finale to their high school stage career, but for others it was only the beginning of many enjoyable moments.

...And in the Senior Play

"Green Green Grow The Lilacs"

Cast

Laurie Williams	Joyce Sharpe
Curly McClain	Gaylord Krutz
Aunt Eller	Julia Mueller
Ado Annie	Patsy Blue
The Peddler	Jon Micu
Jud Fry	Dan Popp
Old Man Peck	Harry Garnette
Mrs. Elam	Barbara Briggs
Mrs. Peck	Carol Levy
Zeb	Al Rosenbaum
Shorty	Brian DeLisle

Below, Opposite—The entire cast returns for curtain call singing "Oklahoma."

Center—Dan Popp, the villain of the play, tries to keep his temper from getting the best of him when Joyce tells him to get out of her life.

Right — Joyce Sharpe and Gaylord Kurtz, newlyweds, have a moment alone before being mobbed by the neighbors.

The Graduating Class Is Ready For The Future

Seniors spent many hours working for the candidates of their choice during the campaign for Senior Class Officers. These active supporters seem to be eating faster than they are working.

Phil Hosler added a touch of humor to the Senior Banquet as a great Prophet. He looked into the future of many members of the graduating class and predicted what is yet to come.

Bob Willcutts is trying desperately to help Mike Findley into his formal in preparation for one of North's pep sessions. Pete Van Ness looks rather amazed at the proceedings.

BACKED BY THE

Above — North Side fans whoop it up at the Coliseum singing the school song for the last time in the Sectional tournament this year.

Aaron T. Lindley is in his fourth year of leading our school system successfully. He is always ready to praise schools for their achievements and is seen at many school activities. He is a good friend as well as Superintendent of Fort Wayne Schools.

The P.T.A. of North Side helps the students by developing a good parent-teacher relationship. It is very strong and influential in the community as a link between the school and its patrons. Officers of P.T.A. for this year were: Robert Zimmerman, second vice-president; Mrs. John Lehman, treasurer; Mrs. Paul Hosler, president; Mrs. James Hawkins, first vice-president; and Mrs. Robert Passwater, secretary.

Principal O. Dale Robertson has piloted North Side High School through three exciting years. He is interested in every phase of school activity and shares the good and bad times with the students. His friendly and sympathetic understanding of student problems has helped him to succeed in his role as leader of the Big Dome.

Miss Victoria Gross, Dean of Girls, advises students in school affairs and personal problems. Her warm, friendly attitude is felt by everyone.

Mr. Murray, Dean of Boys, is shown giving some advice to sophomores Dave Rinne and Larry Bilger. In his first year as Dean at North Side, Mr. Murray has given guidance and encouragement to many boys.

Mr. Lee entertains Miss Richardson, Miss Rich, and Mr. Malott at the Fall Potluck at Franke Park.

The custodians have a big task cleaning the building each evening after school. Fred Menzie and Herbert Weitsman are sad that John Peterink is retiring after 20 years of service.

In the cafeteria many North Side students enjoy the meals which are prepared and served by the cooks. The cooks are: Mrs. Witte, Mrs. Schlosser, Mrs. Hammons, Miss Ernestine Reiling, Mrs. Dennis, Mrs. Dumbould, Miss Gladys McCullough, Mrs. Besh, Mrs. Gaskell, Mrs. Senger, and Mrs. Menzie.

National Honor Society, North Side's most outstanding honor activity, has established the qualities of scholarship, character, and service as a basis for membership.

Forty-two seniors became members of this group this year. This society is made up of 15 per cent of the students from the senior class, and those chosen must be in the scholastic upper third of their class.

Looking over the calendar of events for their last year are the senior class officers, Neil Lantz, vice-president; Bob Anderson, president; Phil Hosler, social council; Janeen Powell, secretary-treasurer; Emil Deister, social council; Gwen Myers, social chairman; and Frank Schollett, social council.

The advisers for this year's senior class were: seated, Miss Margaret Spiegel, Miss Marjorie Bell, Mrs. Maryann Chapman, Miss Ruth Carroll, Miss Irene Miller, and Miss Judith Bowen; Standing, Mr. Noel Whittern, Mr. Hyrle Ivy, Mr. Robert Edwards, Mr. Ruthford Smuts, and Mr. Harold Thomas.

Like many Redskins, Anne Robinson and Nancy Kroeger indulge in getting a bite to eat while Gordon Robers and Ed Stone are waiting their turn.

Each year the senior class chooses its most outstanding students in various categories by means of a poll. The class of 1956 chose Gaylord Kurtz, star of the senior play, "Green Grow the Lilacs," as the best actor in the senior class. Bob Anderson was named the boy with the most engaging personality and the boy most likely to succeed. Carlene Hanson practices giving a speech while Neil Lantz, president of the Student Council, looks on. Carlene and Neil were named the best speakers in this year's class. They were also chosen as having given the most service to the school. Heckling Joyce Sharpe at the piano is star football player Dick Snyder, who was voted the boy with the best sense of humor. Joyce and onlooker Ron Trowbridge were named the best girl and boy singers in the senior class. Gary Geissler, who was voted the boy with the prettiest hair, tries to comb Sandy Underhill's. Sandy was named the girl with the prettiest hair. Alice Sheak and Dick Hickox, best girl and boy athletes, give some helpful advice.

Vivacious Joy Ellenwood regales Jean Hyndman and Julia Mueller with one of her humorous stories. Joy was voted the girl with the best sense of humor, Jean was chosen the girl with the most engaging personality, and Julia Mueller was named the best girl actress in the senior class. This year's most courteous boy, Emil Deister, proves that chivalry isn't dead by holding the door open for Sandy Link, the most courteous girl in the senior class. Mary Poe, who has been prominent in many North Side activities, prepares to give a p.a. announcement while athlete Bob Pace holds her material. Bob and Mary were named the most versatile students in the senior class. Browsing through the card catalogue in the library are Sandy Todd and Pete Van Ness, who were voted the most studious members of the class of 1956.

Harriers Win Three Championships

Redskin harrier captain, Harvey Baker, proves he can easily out-distance opposition.

Coach Rolla Chambers and the X-Country team ran off with three championships in the 1955 season. Among the victories were the City Championship, Sectional crown, and the N.I.C. (Northern Indiana Conference) finals staged at La Porte. The Chambersmen also finished 8th in the Short Ridge Invitational, and 7th in the State Meet.

The team was led across the finish line by seniors Harvey Baker (team captain), and Dick Hickox. Juniors Jack Quas, Ed Evans, and Frank Geist finished right behind the leaders.

Underclassmen Jim Hattery, Dave Witzengruder, and Tom Waters gave Chambers something to look forward to for next season. Freshmen Larry Fair, Dale Pontius, and Roger Head looked very promising.

Redskin Grid captains seem to enjoy talking over one of the most successful football seasons at the Dome.

Many Individuals

North Side football players made a clean sweep in the individual honor list this season. Larry Hall, Frank Schollett, Pete Lundell, and Lynn Harp were awarded positions on the All-City first team for their worthy performances. Elected to the All-City second team were Dick Snyder, Bob Pace, Dewey Senger, Al Glock, and Jack Mounsey. Frank Schollett, the team's Most Valuable Player, and Pete Lundell were elected to the Northern Indiana Conference second team.

Each year sports writers and coaches bestow highly-regarded honors to outstanding players by electing them to various mythical teams.

Head Coach Bob Cowan looks to his staff, consisting of Don Bruick, Bob Traster, Bob Zimmerman, and Bob Edwards, for advice concerning the next tough tilt.

Were Outstanding

Pete Lundell was elected to the High School All America team, one of the highest honors a high school player can receive. In addition to this Pete was elected to the Indianapolis Star All-State team. While Pace was voted a position on the Chicago Times All-State first team, Frank Schollett and Dick Snyder were awarded posts on its second team. Schollett was also elected to both the United Press first team and the Associated Press All-State team. Besides being the team's leading scorer, Dick Snyder was voted positions on the United Press third team and the Associated Press All-State team.

Gridders Blast Their Opponents

Compiling an 8-1 record, the Redskin gridmen completed their most successful season since Bob Cowan took over the post of head-coach three years ago. Only a coin-flip denied the Cowan men the right of representing the East Division of the Northern Indiana Conference in the East-West playoff, but a 5-1 conference record entitled them to share honors with Adams and Washington of South Bend. North regained the prized City Series Crown with a 3-0 record on the local scene.

The first crowd to use the new stadium saw the Redskins turn back the Blue Blazers of Elkhart by a 13-0 margin in their initial N.I.C. contest. Michigan City could drive no farther than North's 17 yard stripe and finally yielded, 31-0, giving the Redskins their second conference victory of the season. North's only loss came at the hands of South Bend Adams, a tussle in which the Eagles' star, Johnny Robins, sparked his team to a 14-6 victory.

Central was the first city rival to fall victim to North's crushing grid machine, by an 8-6 tally. North's second-stringers had a hand in dealing South Side a crushing 51-19 blow, and an 18-0 beating handed luckless Central Catholic clinched the city title for the Redskins. Following triumphs over Central and Washington of South Bend, North blanked South Bend Riley, 18-0, in their final effort of the season.

Honorary captain honors were shared by Bob Pace, Dick Snyder, and Frank Schollett. Eleven other members of the 1955 grid squad who will have to be replaced next season include: Phil Sheets, Larry Hall, Lynn Harp, Bob Meister, Phil Hosler, Dewey Senger, Pete Paulison, Ralph Bogardus, Dick Esterline, Al Glock, and Hugh Glock.

Dick Snyder blasts full power into a tackler a scene happening on the field often.

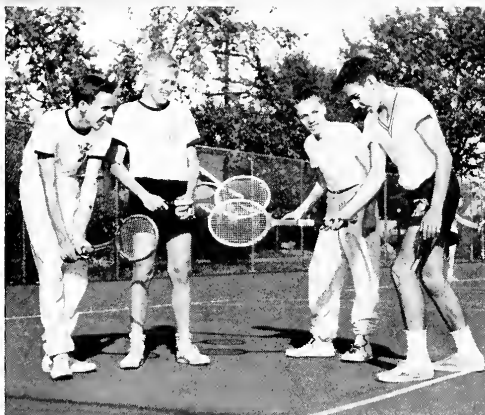

An excellent tackle made for the red and white, which put North Side ahead many times.

The Redskin ball carriers had good protection, which enabled them to go the distance many times.

Tennis Team Hard To Beat

The defending NIC champion Redskins couldn't quite equal last year's performance as they ended the season with a 3 and 5 record in the rugged conference.

Coach Myron Henderson built his squad around the three returning lettermen Harry Garnette, Alan Rosenbaum, and Ed Stone. Jon Micu and Leon Kennedy completed the varsity. Stone was elected honorary captain for the season. Henderson is counting on a big turnout to help him with his giant rebuilding job for next year, as Kennedy is the only man returning.

A special honor given the team was the opportunity of dedicating the new laycold asphalt courts at Lafayette Park last fall. The netters played their closing match against Michigan City in the inaugural ceremony on the new courts.

Successful Season

North Side Basketeers won some of the thrillers of Northern Indiana this season. The Redskins' greatest rivals, the Central Tigers, were handed a shellacing from a hard-fought game. All in all, it was a successful season.

Reserves Ready and Able

The Reserves were really out fighting and were winning. With the fine coaching of Bob Traster, they were destined to go places. Beaten only by the better teams and winning over some of the best teams, they had a successful season. The Reserves held such successful players as Tom Lee, who played on the varsity team most of the time. Other players will probably be on the varsity team of 1957.

Hickox proves his effectiveness against South Bend Adams with a beautiful drive-in shot.

Tim Arney drives around a Central player to plant a basket which insured another victory.

Frosh Rewarded With Experience

The Freshmen basketball team, coached by Bob Edwards, played a successful season. They captured many wins and were defeated by some of the better teams.

The reserve basketball team will have some good players from the Frosh in 1957, and the varsity will really go places in '58 and '59 with this year's freshmen.

Cheerleaders Lead; Fans Support Team

The cheerleaders work in a team to provide unison cheering of the fans. All football and basketball games never failed to have the cheerful faces of the varsity cheerleaders bringing the fans through the gloomy moments.

The varsity and reserve cheerleaders are chosen by a special committee in May to serve the following season of sports.

At the end of the season the cheerleaders had many cheers they could do quite well, and they had all the girls in the cheering block cheering as one, producing a strong backing for the team.

The reserves act only while the reserve basketball team plays. The varsity cheerleaders cheer while the varsity football and basketball teams play.

A well-noted cheer done by Louis Levin, Sandra Underhill, Carol Pontus, Mona Zirkle, and Marilyn Hartman.

Two future Redskins help cheerleaders Mona Zirkle and Carol Pontus during sectionals.

North Side's Girls Cheering Block helped our team through a tough year with their wonderful spirit and enthusiasm.

Cheering Block Contributes Spirit

The cheering block, consisting of Red-skin lasses, was formed for the third year. For this year the block decided to wear red weskits, white gloves, and red head bands and feathers. The enthusiasm for the block was so great that many girls were waiting to sign up hours before school opened the day it was organized. This well organized enthusiastic block helped our team through many "tough" situations. Another major function of the cheering block was to help channel the student cheering and spirit along the right path.

Cheering the team on after a good play are these Redskin girls.

Dick Esterline goes over for North in the high jump.

More Cinders Scorched at North

Once more Coach Rolla Chambers has come up with the best track team in this area. The Big Red Cindermen have won most of their meets. They have won the North, South, Central Triangular meet, team championship of the NIC Trials, and regained the North Side Relays Crown by a margin of about twenty points.

Cinder coaches Don Kemp, Bob Zimmerman, Bob Cowan, and Rolla Chambers talk over plans for a future track meet.

Jack Quas proved a better man than South Sider, Dave Redding, at the triangular meet.

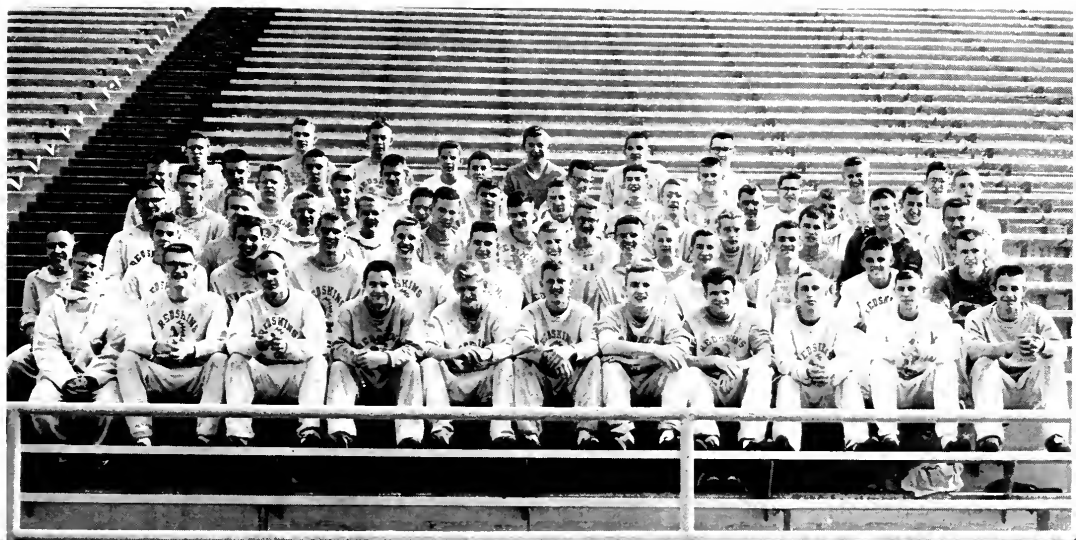

Frank Geist easily takes the 880 yard run at the triangular meet.

Ron Trowbridge, considered by most the best hurdler in the state, set many records. When he sailed over the high sticks in 14.7 seconds he became the fastest hurdler that Fort Wayne ever produced. Having Trowbridge backed by Bill Orthlieb, a tremendous hurdler in his own right, gave North a tremendous one-two punch. North's distance men always helped the cause. Jack Quas and Ed Evans in the mile along with Frank Geist and Harvey Baker in the half mile were always leading the pack for the Chambermen. Ron Bowman, veteran in 440 yard dash, backed these distance men effectively. For the shorter distances Ron Slater and Pete Lundell took over, winning most of the dashes. The runners could always depend on the field men Tom Seifert, shot put, Dick Esterline, high jump; Dewey Senger and Don Stager, pole vault; Bob Richards and Don Stager, broad jump. All tracksters combined their efforts for another tremendous season.

Whole Team

Ron Bowman completes the first lap of the mile relay as he passes to Nuerge.

Pete Lundell finishes the mile relay after getting the baton from Bell by zooming past South's Terry Miller.

Intramural Basketball Interests Many

Once again noontime intramural basketball interested the whole school. Students congregated in the gym to watch and to cheer their favorite team to victory. The play-offs were marked by many close games, and there were many upsets. The Harriers, heavy weight champions, won their title after an unbeaten team was dropped in their first game. Members of North's varsity team acted as referees during these games.

The intramural games were packed with action and good playing.

New Physical Education Program Initiated at North

The physical education classes have new schedules this year. All phys-ed students are divided into three groups each having to take swimming, special development, and gym. Thus everyone had a chance to take swimming, if only for six weeks.

Special development classes do specific exercises for the building of muscles.

Tumbling is also a part of gymnastics here at North.

Swimming students in starting position for the fifteen length water race.

Girls Phys-Ed Program Enjoyable

Girls physical education is a class with a wide range of activities from basketball to archery. The girls enjoy every moment of physical education with their friends.

Basketball is included in every girls physical education program.

Girls participate in volleyball for recreation.

Ripplettes Get In the Swim

A membership limit of twenty girls causes keen competition for North's many mermaids. At spring tryouts each year the members of Ripplettes judge prospective members on their performance of the following skills: ballet legs, dolphins, back surface dive, revolving duels, porpoises, front dives, rhythmic strokes, waltz crawl, and front crawl.

This year the Ripplettes worked on the perfection of such skills as the catalina, flamingo, and oyster. These skills will be used in the water show "Ripples in Rhythm," presented biennially.

A revolving wheel formation by the girls in Ripplettes.

Three girls do a ballet legs which all girls learn.

Ripplettes line up along the pool to get in a swim. They are Judy Winkler, Margaret Thompson, Jean Hyndman, Sandra Behrens, Kay Baughman, Gwen Myers, Joyce Sharpe, Judy Stackhouse, Joan Roberts, Sue Parker, and Jean Moyer.

G. A. A. Is of Interest to Many

The Girls Athletic Association, better known as G.A.A. offers a wide variety of activity for girls. They uphold the ideals of sportsmanship, loyalty, and health. The club is guided by Miss Margaret Spiegel and Miss Ruth Carroll.

Some activities offered are archery, badminton, bowling, basketball, and swimming. The basketball tourney this year was won by the team labeled Nash, Inc. Softball, tennis, and volleyball were also offered.

Besides offering sports, many social activities are included in their agenda. Formal initiation, potluck, freshman party, an after game dance, and the spring banquet keep the social affairs rolling. These offer responsibilities for everyone.

Archery, one of G.A.A.'s activities, proved to be of great interest to many girls.

Officers of G.A.A. are Sharon Fletter, Vice-President; Judy Winkler, President; and Mary Nash, Secretary.

Some of the G.A.A. members take advantage of the bowling program offered.

The spring banquet also holds anxiety because the officers for the following year are announced. Trophies and awards earned are also presented at this affair.

The girls chosen to lead the club this year were: Judy Winkler, President; Sharon Fletter, Vice President; Mary Nash, Secretary; Alice Sheak, Treasurer; Nilah Castator, Junior Representative; and Carole Peters, Sophomore Representative. These girls accomplished many things toward improving the club. The G.A.A. business meetings are held on the first Monday of the month. The executive board meets on the average of once a week to plan the social functions. A new point system was introduced this year, it is now on a trial basis for the completion of this semester. The girls had a choice of changing to the proposed system or remaining on the State system. The idea of changing the system is to enable more girls to get their letters before they graduate. Under the new system a service award will be given on the basis of work on committees.

Some archers practice to earn more G.A.A. points.

Student Council

The purpose of Student Council is to serve as a link between the students and faculty members. It represents the students in the government of school and is the coordinator of many school events. In the fall, Student Council sponsors the Get-Acquainted Day, the purpose of which is to promote new friendships. The students are given cards of different colors according to classes, and are given extra time between periods to collect signatures of those with whom they are not well acquainted. Back-to-School Night, a council project for which members serve as guides and ushers, gives parents and teachers a chance to become better acquainted. On Junior High Day, prospective North Siders are taken on a tour of the school by student council members. During Courtesy Week, students are reminded that courtesy always counts by P.A. announcements, an assembly, and a dance. The group, consisting of home room and club representatives, elected as officers for the year; Neil Lantz, president; Jon Micu, vice-president; Joyce Sharpe, secretary; Sandra Todd, treasurer; Ed Stone, parliamentarian; and Lynn Harp, sergeant-at-arms. The advisers of the club are Mr. O. Dale Robertson, and Miss Victoria Gross.

Above—The officers of Student Council are, seated, Joyce Sharpe, Neil Lantz, and Sandra Todd. Standing are Lynn Harp, Jon Micu, and Ed Stone.

Center—"Two way day" was set aside this year so that students could walk both ways on the one-way stairways. This was done in order to decide if the one-way stairways would stay in effect or not.

Booster Club

The Booster Club endeavors to promote good sportsmanship and strengthen school spirit. Under the direction of its adviser, Mr. Noel Whittern, the club helps conduct pep sessions before athletic events. At sectional time this year, the club made and distributed red and white shakers to students and band members. They also sold badges and pictures of the team. Any student, sophomore, junior, or senior who has earned 25 points or more by working on some club project, is eligible to become an active member of Booster Club. One point is recorded for members who work one-half hour before a game or on projects, or who work one quarter of a varsity game. Awards are given according to the number of points earned. For the 1955-56 school year, Terry Sims was elected president. Dick Smith filled the office of vice-president, and Janet Montgomery served as secretary. Point recorder for the year was Sandra Dillmon, and the pep session chairman was Don Shelly. Connie Brubaker served as the Club's student council representative.

Making shakers of red and white crepe paper for the sectional tourney are Janice McMaken and Carol York.

This year the members of Junior Red Cross Club were divided into committees which all picked a different project to work on for the year. A few of the projects were: Making scrapbooks for the war orphans, sponsored by Student Council; calling blood donors from the City Red Cross Chapter House; and baby-sitting at the Westfield Village recreational center. The members also took part in the International Art Program, which is an exhibit of paintings representing some phase of American life, made by students from all schools in Fort Wayne. The winners are then sent to Washington, where selections are made to be sent overseas in exchange for other works of art. North Side's exhibits were made by the art department. Social activities this year included an after-game dance which was a sock hop, called the "Toe-Jam Jamboree," and a picnic in May. Officers for the first semester were: Jannie Thomas, president; Sandra Todd, vice-president; Jon Micu, secretary; and Mary Poe, treasurer. The second semester, Sandra Todd filled the office of president; Jannie Thomas, vice-president; Jon Micu, secretary; and Kay Baughman, treasurer. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Alice Nusbaum and Mr. Charles Clark.

Future Teachers of America

The purpose of Future Teachers of America Club is to present to students the vocational opportunities in teaching and in other fields. Members are aided in choosing a vocation by speakers at meetings, panel discussions, and trips to colleges. This year, Carlene Hanson, a member and officer of the club, had the honor of being elected as State F.T.A. president. Other members of the club took trips to several area and state conventions. Social activities included a dance and Christmas party. Last semester's officers, under the guidance of Mrs. Maryann Chapman, were Gwen Myers, president; Janeen Powell, vice-president; Carlene Hanson, secretary; Kara Jane Parker, treasurer; and Linda Kiracofe, parliamentarian. The second semester, Gwen Myers was re-elected as president; Linda Kiracofe, vice-president; Lee McMillen, secretary; Marsha Adams, treasurer; and Sandra Todd, parliamentarian.

Preparing to leave on a Future Teachers of America excursion trip are Lynne Hetteima, Gretchen Callihan, Mrs. John Baughman, Nancy Weber, Pat Kreigh, Sandra Todd, Carlene Hanson, Mrs. Chapman, adviser; Kay Baughman, and Gwen Myers.

Helicon Club

At a Helicon pot-luck dinner, mothers of the members help serve. Carlene Hanson is pouring the punch for advisor Miss Mabel Greenwalt, while Gwen Myers, Mary Poe, Mrs. Emil Deister, Mrs. Clarence Sharpe, and Emil Deister wait in line.

Outstanding students in English compose the membership of the Helicon Club, which is organized to further the knowledge of literary-minded students. A potluck supper highlighted the October meeting, where the mothers of the members helped serve. For a Christmas project, the club supplied gifts, refreshments, and a program at the Allen County Infirmary. In February, the annual Washington-Lincoln Assembly was given. In April the Spring Tea was held, followed in May by the Senior Farewell, put on by the underclass members of the club. First semester officers were: Ed Stone, president; Jon Micu, vice-president; Janet Kolmerten, secretary; Emil Deister, treasurer; Mary Poe, social chairman; Bobbi Bash, membership; Gwen Myers, publicity; Marcelene Reicht, service recorder; Carlene Hanson, program; and Judy Moss, and Joe Johnson, critics. Leading the club the second semester were: Jon Micu, president; Janet Kolmerten, vice-president; Bobbi Bash, secretary; Jim Miller, treasurer; Dan Popp, social chairman; Barbara Christie, membership; Austin Brooks, publicity; Sally Bissell, service recorder; Patsy Blue, program; and Kay Loudermilk and Charles Engle, critics.

Globetrotters

Globetrotters Club, which is open to any student upholding a B average in social science, deals with the people and traditions of the countries of the world. Each year the club sponsors a trip either to Indianapolis or to Washington, D.C., on which the state and federal law-making bodies are observed at work. This year the upperclassmen eligible took a five-day trip to New York and Washington. Directed by Miss Katherine Rothenberger and Mr. Harry Young, the senior members of the club transported voters to the polls and babysat for them during the November elections. The annual Pan-American Day observance was another project of the group. Serving as president during the fall semester was Joyce Sharpe; assisted by Sandra Todd, vice-president; Patsy Blue, secretary; Carol Johnson, treasurer, and Janet Kolmerten, social chairman. The officers for the second semester were Austin Brooks, president; Bobbi Bash, vice-president; Janet Kolmerten, secretary; Wally Fosnight, treasurer; and Joyce Sharpe, social chairman.

Masque and Gavel and National Thespians

Two of North Side's speech and dramatics clubs are Masque and Gavel and National Thespians. Both are under the direction of Mr. James A. Purkhiser. Better use of the theatre, radio, television, and movies as a recreation or hobby is the main purpose of Masque and Gavel. National Thespians is one of North's top honorary societies. The aim is to create more interest in the advanced standards of dramatics.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE and JUNIOR FORENSIC LEAGUE

Two of North's speech clubs are Junior Forensic League and National Forensic League. Junior Forensic League encourages participation in its many areas of speech work. Miss Irene Miller and Mr. Stanley Lee direct the members in earning points to become a member in N.F.L. National Forensic League, under the direction of Mr. Albert Coil is an honorary society for public speakers and debators. Membership is open to upperclassmen who have earned at least twenty points in various speech contests.

First row: Carolyn Van Kirk, Lynn Rosenbaum, John Shoaff, Phil Cantelan, Joyce Wehrenberg, Kathy Dunigan, Marty Thomas, Letty Bryce, John Stout, and Stuart Rahrer. Second row: Miss Irene Miller, Sue Rhodes, Linda Olinger, Beverly Beck, Karen Karger, Suzanne McNelly, Cindy Blitz, Deanna Hockemeyer, Natalie Lenz, Tom McMahan, and Mr. Stanley Lee.

Library Assistants

The library assistants consist of girls selected by Miss Ethel Shroyer, librarian, to work before and after school and during a study period one day each week. Among some of the duties performed by them are straightening all book shelves, writing over-due notices, and checking books in and out.

Stanley Rowe, Jack Huffman, Steve Hofer, Roger Lehman, Jerry Palm, Ralph Henschen, Julian Houtz, Pat Fletcher, Dave Behrens, Rex Sanders, and Mr. Thompson.

Auto Design Club

The Auto Design Club is not a school club. It consists of a group of boys who are working for the General Motors Craft Guild. They make model automobiles of their own. Their reason for meeting is to compare notes, and they are assisted by Mr. Tourist Thompson. Patterson Fletcher served as president; Julian Houtz, vice president; and Jack Huffman, secretary-treasurer.

Junior Classical League

Junior Classical League, a national organization, encourages advanced Latin students to become better acquainted with the Greek and Roman civilizations. Membership is open to all advanced Latin students, and those planning to study Latin are accepted as pledges. The Misses Loraine Foster, Judith Bowen, and Geneva Burwell are the faculty advisers.

Linda Graef and Margaret Thompson take part in a Roman skit at the annual joint foreign language club Christmas party.

First row: Miss Judith Bowen, Miss Geneva Burwell, Bob Passwater, Kay Perrin, Lynn Hetteima, Linda Graef, Margaret Thompson, and Sharon Pratt.
Second row: Carol Johnson, Avis Hearn, Miss Loraine Forster, and Dave Fisher.

PARMI NOS AMIS

Parmi Nos Amis, better known as French Club, is composed of students who are taking French now or have taken it in the past. French Club, lead by Miss Francis Plumanns, encourages the further study of France and its people by outside speakers, movies, French plays, and reports on its literature. The spring picnic and the Christmas party, which is sponsored by the three foreign language clubs, highlighted this year.

Planning their annual Spring picnic are Sue Lehman, Alice Rudensky, Linda Kiracofe, and Joyce Wehrenberg.

Los Sodales

Los Sodales, the Spanish Club, gives Spanish pupils a chance to learn more about Spain, its people, its customs, art, and sciences. Spanish Club is under the leadership of Miss Mary Jane Richardson. Entertainment at meetings is usually provided by guest speakers or by skits given by members. On Recognition Day, Los Sodales presents a medal to the pupil who received the best grades during the four semesters he or she has taken Spanish.

Lenora Meyer and Sarah Shideler plan future Los Sodales programs.

HI-Y

Boys interested in developing good character have an opportunity to join Hi-Y. Club members participate in city-wide Hi-Y projects. The organization is affiliated with the state and National Hi-Y and is the high school division of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Planning Hi-Y's annual spring picnic are Ralph Bogardus, Dan Popp, and Bob Anderson.

Girls Rifle Club

Sounds of Girls Rifle Club target shooting could be heard on Monday and Thursday evenings. Mr. Hyrle Ivy is adviser of this club. A Pro-Marksman pin is awarded to each girl when she makes twenty out of fifty tries at the bullseye. After this, she may earn a Marksman award by hitting twenty-five out of fifty. The next stage is the Marksman First-Class; and finally is the Sharp-shooter award, made by scoring thirty-five out of fifty bullseye tries. Bars are awarded for each additional achievement in the sharp-shooting class.

Mr. Hyrle Ivy explains to members of Girls Rifle Club how to use a rifle. Those listening are: Donna Biggs, Nancy Reighter, Eleanor Gates, Sandra Menke, and Avis Hearn.

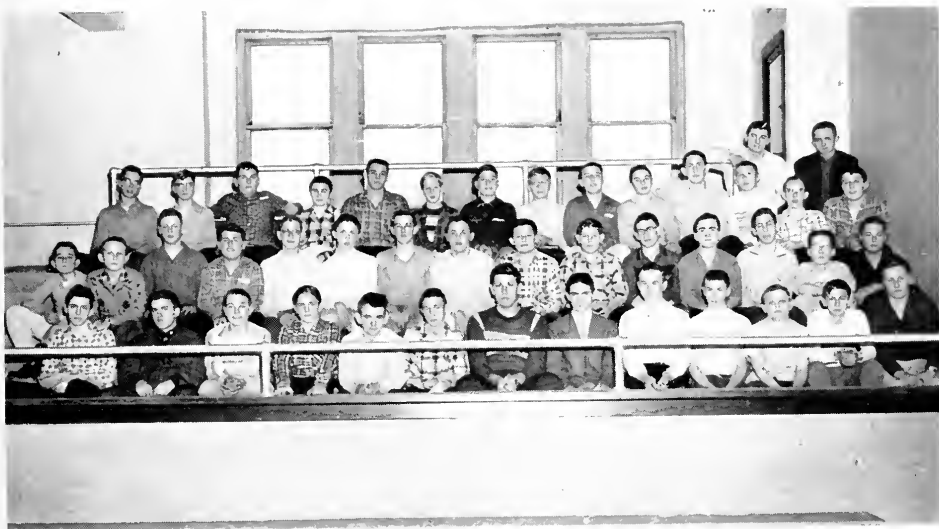

Boys Rifle Club

Ready! Aim! Fire! Students around the Big Dome are accustomed to hearing these shouts and the firing of rifles as the members of Rifle Club strive for the bullseye. Mr. Hyrle Ivy, adviser, has taught the members the correct procedures for holding, firing, and caring for a rifle. The Sportsman's Code is familiar to all members. Medals and other awards are given to members as they advance in marksmanship. The highest honor given is the Distinguished Rifleman Award. The club is an affiliate of the National Rifle Association.

Phy-Chem Club

The Phy-Chem Club of North Side is open to any student enrolled in physics or chemistry classes who wish to develop their interests further in these sciences. Under the leadership of Mr. Sherman Pressler and Mr. Harold A. Thomas, demonstrations and experiments are featured at the club's meetings. The members of the club are given an opportunity to express their ideas and work with others who also have the same ideas. Officers for the fall semester were: president, Emil Deister; vice president, Dale Fulkerson; secretary, Joan Roberts; treasurer, Dave Dobberkau; social chairman, Sandy Link; and parliamentarian, Jim Foy. Spring semester officers were: president, Dale Fulkerson; vice president, Al Glock; secretary, Joan Roberts; treasurer, Pete Van Ness; social chairman, Sandy Link; parliamentarian, Mike Findley.

Nature Club

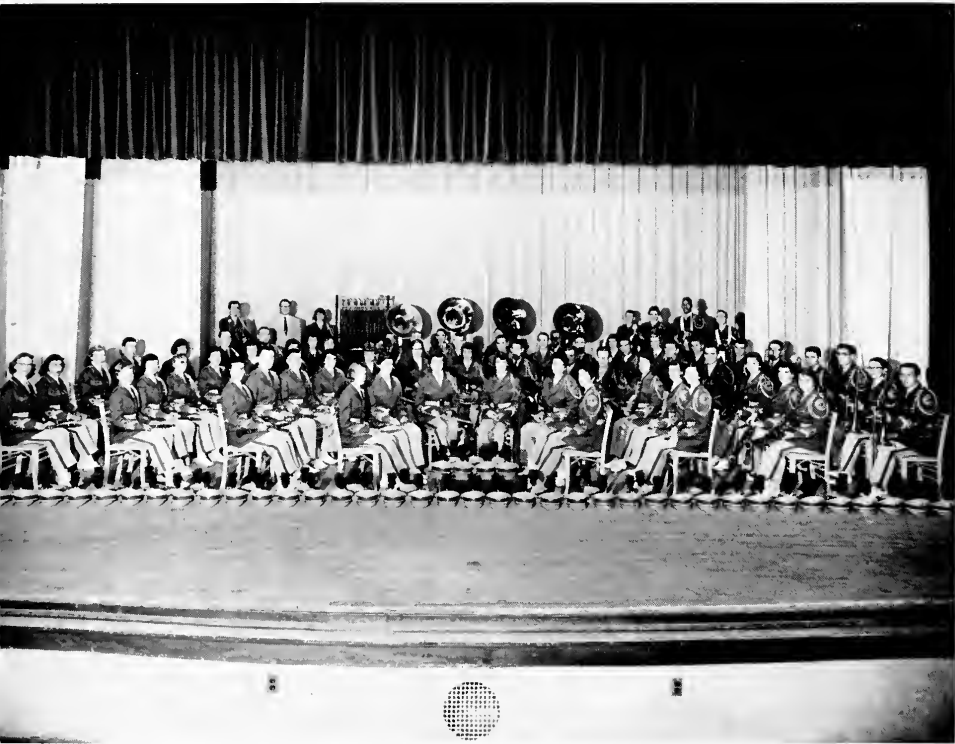

The Izaak Waltons of North Side only need to have an interest in the outdoors to enjoy the activities provided by the Nature Club. They spend many hours roaming through the parks or on the river banks in search of Nature's offsprings. It enables its members to gain a better knowledge of the out-of-doors and wild life. When the weather does not permit, the Nature Club members may occupy their time by viewing films, looking over collections, or working on their hobbies and projects. Miss Vesta Thompson and Mr. Clifford Ott are the advisers of the club.

The officers of Nature Club are Larry Coolman, treasurer; Carol Blessing, president; Sue Parker, secretary; Peggy Wilson, vice president; and Mr. C. H. Ott, club sponsor.

BAND

The North Side Band put a note of cheer in the hearts of the basketball, football, and concert audiences this year. Besides providing music for games, pep sessions, and concerts, the Red-skin band also furnished music for the twirlers and for civic parades. Leadership, co-operation, ability, and enjoyment are offered to those interested in band work. North Sider's are as proud of the band as they are of their director, Mr. C. William Hatt, who has added a lot of spirit to the band.

ORCHESTRA

Under the direction of Mr. C. William Hatt, the orchestra has put forth a fine showing this year. Few people stop and realize how many hours of practicing it takes to put on a concert. Besides the class time spent, they practice many hours at home. This year as always, there are many smaller groups in orchestra which have won recognition in the Solo and Ensemble Contest held every year. North Side is as proud of the orchestra as they are of its director, Mr. C. William Hatt.

Row one: Judy Yerrick, Bonnie Henderson, Sandra Webster, Sharon Getz, Connie Wesco, Elaine Sampson. Training Choirs

One of the finest departments at North Side is the music department. The greatest aid to culture that we students obtain in our high school days is our understanding and appreciation of music. At North we not only get a theatrical background but also practical training. Chorus class is the first stepping stone for further advancement open to both boys and girls. The girls advance into Girls Choir, and the boys advance to Varsity Choir. The members for the following semester of A Cappella are usually chosen from Varsity Choir.

A Cappella

Aably directed by Miss Jeanette Rich, A Cappella has offered many varied and entertaining musical selections. During the year A Cappella has sung for many civic organizations, at the hospitals, and for school functions. The members of A Cappella carry a song in their own hearts and are thereby able to transfer this song into the hearts of their audiences. The choir has tried to educate as well as entertain their audiences by performing the best in choral arrangements. Within A Cappella Choir there are two special groups, the boy's Triple Trio, and the girl's Chansonettes. These groups practice before school and during fifth period.

North Side Instrumentalists

N.S.I. is an honorary for members of the band or orchestra with more than one year of service. Its purpose is to further the member's interest in instrumental music. This year the officers of the club were Don Arney, president; Sandra Todd, vice-president; Sandra Behrens, secretary; Janet Kolmerten, treasurer; and Ron Johnson, parliamentarian. The new members, commonly known as spikes, for the spring semester were Phil Schuman, Tom Tate, Roy Butzier, Sue Milner, Sharon Bramblett, Donelda Lane and Lenora Meyer.

Twirlers

We have all enjoyed the colorful performances put on at the half time of our football and basketball games. North Side's majorettes, under the direction of Mr. C. William Hatt, are the ones who provide this entertainment. Another important service to the school is their presenting of the flags before each home game. These girls spend their fifth periods either practicing for a forthcoming performance or teaching other girls the art of baton-twirling. The girls plan their own acts and have an entirely different one every week. They combine colorful costumes, intricate formations, and synchronized twirling all into one act. Many of the girls have soloed during the basketball season. The twirlers are accompanied by the North Side Band at their performances.

Camera Club

Camera Club is open to everyone interested in the art of photography. Members meet twice a month and discuss problems relative to the field. They also go on several field trips during the year. They have their own darkroom in the basement where they may learn the different techniques involved in developing photographs. The club provides an excellent opportunity to learn a very enjoyable hobby. Officers for the year were Jim Link, president; Ken Luttenbacher, vice-president; and Becky Coolman, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Myron Henderson was faculty adviser.

1500 Club

1500 Club is an honorary journalism club for members of the Northerner or Legend. To be eligible, one must have earned 1500 or more points while working on the newspaper or year-book. Last January, 1500 Club sponsored a banquet for all students working on publications. The banquet was given at the Colonial Restaurant and all awards for the year were made at the time. They also sponsored the publications picnic in May.

Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll is a national honorary society for journalists. It is the goal of every high school student interested in publications. To be eligible he must be in the upper third of his class, and he must have contributed outstanding work in some phase of journalism for a period of at least one year. Seniors from the Northerner and Legend staffs are chosen by the national executive secretary of Quill and Scroll. He uses as a basis for his judgment a recommendation from the publications adviser, Miss Norma Thiele, and a sample of the student's work. Membership in Quill and Scroll is the highest award that can be given to a high school journalist.

Northerner

A group of hard working students gather in room 113 and make possible our fine weekly newspaper. Their diligent work is evident from the many rewards that they receive. They have received such honors as Quill and Scroll's International Honor Rating and first class honor ratings by the National Scholastic Press Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Anne Robinson served as editor-in-chief for the first semester. Dave Boxley was managing editor, while Jannie Thomas was copy editor. Others on the staff were Margie Silverman, news editor; John Stout, assistant news editor; Bobbi Bash, feature editor; Letty Bryce, assistant feature editor; Dan Popp, sports editor; Frank Geist, assistant sports editor; Sanna Boxley and Dixie Durr, co-classroom news editors; Dave Fisher and Paulann Hosler, co-exchange editors; Pat McCann and John Shoaff, co-assistant ad managers; Alice Rudensky, circulation manager; Linda Keller, assistant circulation manager; and Bob Mergy,

Legend Staff

The 1956 edition of the Legend has been published under the direction of Carlene Hanson, editor; Gwen Myers, assistant editor; and Miss Norma Thiele, faculty adviser. Last September our staff was picked and we began our year-long job of planning and writing. Members of the staff were Julia Mueller, senior editor; Linda Kira-cofe, faculty editor; Ken Husband, activities editor; Jack Huffman and Dan Pontoni, sports editors; Mike Findley and Kay Perrin, underclass editors; Marilyn Wyss, circulation manager; and Judy Harper, staff artist. Photographers were Jack Huffman, Dan Pontoni, Julian Houtz, and Curtis Drew. The Legend was completely staffed by seniors. We hope to bring you a pictorial resume of the 1955-1956 school year. With great pleasure we present you with the 1956 Legend.
